Start Getting Ready for Placer County's Mountain Mandarin Festival & Tours

You can almost smell the sweet and tangy citrus scent of Mandarin oranges as the mountain morning air becomes crisp in the foothills. November 18 and 19 the two-day Mountain Mandarin Festival will kick off the Mandarin orange season. The festival is just the beginning of the Placer County Mountain Mandarin growing season. This year should be a bumper crop so these easy to peel, sweet juicy and healthy-to-eat fruit should be available straight through mid January. The Mountain Mandarin Tours begins November 24, 2006 and continues through January 2007.

To learn more about the Mountain Mandarin Festival and Mountain Mandarin Tours visit www.mandarinfestival.com or www.mountainmandarins.com. They both will be a tasty adventure for both adults and children.
